

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL.

July 30, 2013

Bike Tours That Cover Lots of Gorgeous Ground

A cyclist on an InGamba tour in Tuscany.

Chianti, Italy

InGamba (ingamba.pro)

L'Eroica Mangia trip Sept. 29-Oct. 7 $ 7,650 .

InGamba specializes in cycling tours in Chianti geared toward advanced cyclists. The company supplies riders with $10,000 Pinarello Dogma bikes "so we usually attract people for whom cycling is a way of life," says Joao Correia, a former pro-cyclist who owns InGamba. Long days of pedaling are rewarded with meals at authentic eateries, paired with local wine or beer. Each trip is staffed with masseuses to soothe aching legs and back.

– Jen Murphy